

In collaboration with the Department of English Studies

New Perspectives on Irish English 8

Center of Irish Studies in Cáceres (UEX)

University of Extremadura

(Spain)

PROVISIONAL CONFERENCE PROGRAM

In collaboration with the Department of English Studies

THURSDAY, May 16th

8.00-9.00

REGISTRATION

9.00-10.30

CONFERENCE OPENING AND INSTITUTIONAL WELCOME

10.30-11.00

COFFEE BREAK

11.00-12.30

PHONETICS & PHONOLOGY PANEL

Airelle Theveniaut & Kate Tallon

“Connemara English: (supra)segmental analysis of a variety in contact with Irish”

Francesca Nicora & Barabara G li Fivela

“A preliminary study of the intonation system of Galway Irish English”

Sophie Herment, Julia Bongiorno & Airelle
Theveniaut

“Intonation in Ireland: A cross-sectional study of Dublin, Galway and Cork using PAC corpora”

In collaboration with the Department of English Studies

12.30-14.30

LUNCH

14.30-16.00

HISTORICAL (SOCIO)LINGUISTICS PANEL

Carolina P. Amador-Moreno & Karen P. Corrigan

“Digging into Legacy Irish English Data for Open Science”

Dania Jovanna Bonness & Persijn Marius de Rijke

“Will [well] Ill give you an account of everything now”: Well as discourse marker and illustration of DRESS-raising

Giselle González & Nancy E. Ávila-Ledesma

“Don Santiago ‘a Catholic from conviction and an Old Bachelor from necessity’: A historical sociolinguistic analysis of James J. Wright’s letters”

16.00-16.30

COFFEE BREAK

16.30-17.30

ORALITY IN FICTION PANEL

Elaine Vaughan & Brian Clancy

“G’way you gomie: Subversive humour, taboo language and the humorous deployment of Limerick English”

In collaboration with the Department of English Studies

Patricia Ronan

“I was only delighted: usage patterns of only in Dublin English”

17.30-18.30

SOCIOPRAGMATICS PANEL

Joan O’Sullivan & Tamami Shimada

“Investigating Irish English and identity in native and ‘new speakers’ of Irish English”

Mark Donnellan, David Eckford & Ciarán
Dawson
(presented only by Mark Donnellan)

“A Case Study of Irish English Speakers in Global Contexts”

END OF SESSIONS

18.30-19.30

Free guided tour around the Old Town

20.00

WINE RECEPTION SPONSORED BY THE IRISH EMBASSY

In collaboration with the Department of English Studies

FRIDAY, May 17th

9.00-10.30

PANEL ON NORTHERN IRISH & ULSTER ENGLISH

John Kirk & Marcus Pluschkovitz

“Ulster and the Digital Lexical Atlas of Scotland”

Karen P. Corrigan & Mary Robinson

“Acquiring Embedded Inverted Questions in Mid Ulster English: Local Constraints on a Global Phenomenon”

Warren Maguire

“Analysing the lexical distribution of vowel phonemes in Ulster English in the TRSHES”

10.30-11.00

COFFEE BREAK

11.00-12.00

DISCOURSE ANALYSIS PANEL

Raymond Hickey

“Narrative structures in Irish English”

Davide Mazzi

“‘Ignorant lads’ v. ‘Outlaws’? Propaganda discourse in the Irish Civil War”

In collaboration with the Department of English Studies

12.00-13.00

SOCIOPRAGMATICS PANEL

Anne Barron

“I don’t feel like much of a gentleman if I don’t pay you know’: Constructing gender identities in First Dates Ireland”

Nancy E. Ávila-Ledesma & David Sotoca
Fernández

“I dare say that you are writing a letter for me today - a long one I hope’: Exploring the pragmatic usage of the mental verb “hope” in CORIECOR”

13.00-15.00

LUNCH

15.00-16.00

ORALITY IN FICTION PANEL

Ana M^a Terrazas-Calero & Sara Díaz Sierra

“The Young Offenders: The linguistic construction of inner-city Cork voice”

Alma Peris Alonso

“ ‘Ach, it’s a great wee day so far, isn’t it?’: A corpus stylistic study of discourse-pragmatic markers in Derry Girls”

16.00-17.00

PHONETICS & PHONOLOGY PANEL

Moritz Nuzha

“Prosodic Features of Irish Intonation”

In collaboration with the Department of English Studies

Franziska Wischerhoff

“‘They have so much more of an American-sounding accent’: Investigating Americanisation and social media influence in Dublin English”

END OF SESSIONS

17.00-17.30

Business meeting

17.30-18.30

BOOK LAUNCH

20.30

GALA DINNER

SATURDAY, May 18th

SOCIALIZATION & ORGANIZED TRIPS